HOPE, ARKANSAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1972

Our Quarrel Is With Courthouse, Not the Schools; the Tax Hike Is Up to the People

To take a stand on a public issue is an editor's privilege—but not always his obligation.

In the past we have given the public school managers a hard time over endless proposals to increase the Hope school millage tax. But this year we are passing the 8-mill issue to the people without comment.

For one thing, The Star is the only newspaper in the county, and this puts a burden on even a free-wheeling editor. We have tried to equalize matters by opening our columns free of charge to the spokesmen for the schools and the 8-mill tax increase. Everyone knows The Star's editorial stand on millage versus assessment. Our position is unchanged, we assure you—but it is embarrassing and tedious to be speaking alone for the opposition when the community is already fully informed on the issue and well able to make its own decision.

We are neither for nor against the millage increase in the March 14 election.

George Frazier, chairman of the Building & Grounds Subcommittee, defined the issue for the tax hike proponents when he wrote in this newspaper that the schools need $200,000 in new construction or remodeling.

An opposition view might take the line which The Star has made familiar—that only the millage is inflated: assessments never.

Another reason we aren't taking a stand in this election is that the county tax assessor's office is up for grabs this year. It will be interesting to note whether the school millage advocates take the same interest in putting tax assessor candidates on the line for fair assessments that they are showing for the millage increase.

If the school managers make a worth-while effort to put a co-operative assessor in office they will have gone a long way toward winning solid public support.

Nixon Wants New Rules to Stop Air Extortion Plots

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
Top officials of the nation's 29 biggest airlines were called to Washington today to help thwart what President Nixon called "vicious extortion plots" against the carriers.

Nixon acted Thursday to require immediate implementation of new rules aimed at keeping dangerous individuals, weapons or bombs off scheduled airliners. The new procedures were slated to take effect three months from now.

The airline chiefs were summoned to meet with Secretary of Transportation John Volpe and the Federal Aviation Administration.

Retired Air Force Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, chief of the federal force of sky marshals, told newsmen at the White House not all the 29 airlines had taken a serious view of past federal directives aimed at frustrating hijackers and blackmailers.

In response to a question, Davis named Trans World Airlines as one that has adopted a realistic approach.

However, it was a $2-million blackmail attempt against TWA and the planting of two bombs aboard its jet liners—only one exploded—that prompted Nixon to aim for safety of air transport.

In New York, TWA's president, F.C. Wiser, said there has been "no contact with the extortionist since Tuesday evening and no ransom has been paid."

A short time after his announcement, a bomb scare emptied a restaurant and bar at Kennedy airport in New York. Flights were halted for about 20 minutes, but nothing was discovered.

The scare was only one of several involving planes and terminals at New York, Baltimore, San Juan, Chicago, St.

Louis, Louisville and Reno, Nev. No bombs were found at any of the sites.

Flights were delayed at many airports as the spate of threats continued and beefed-up security slowed departures and arrivals.

The FAA, meanwhile, said it will require new communications systems between air crews and the ground, ...

While claiming federal programs have drastically cut the number of successful hijackings, Nixon said in a statement:

"Our air-transportation system faces a new threat, in the form of vicious extortion plots like the ones which have been directed at air traffic across the country this week. We must not be intimidated by such lawlessness, rather we must and will meet this blackmail on the ground, as vigorously as we have met piracy in the air."

Vietnamese Drive in Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — A south Vietnamese armored strike force of 100 vehicles and thousands of troops drove into eastern Cambodia today in a new thrust designed to destroy North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps.

Field reports said fewer than 5,000 troops were committed in the first day but that the force was expected to grow in phases to as many as 20,000 men by next week.

Officers in the field reported no major contact yet in the drive north of the Saigon-to-Phnom Penh highway, about six to 10 miles inside Cambodia and 75 to 100 miles northwest of Saigon. It was the first major drive into eastern Cambodia since Nov. 22, although much smaller operations have been launched since then.

In a smaller drive under way since Feb. 1 about 25 miles farther southwest, the Saigon command said, 35 enemy troops were killed with the help of air and artillery strikes, while two South Vietnamese were killed and eight wounded.

U.S. B52 bombers softened up the objective areas and paved the way for a new South Vietnamese offensive west of Tay Ninh City in South Vietnam.

Mrs. Beard in which she suggested out-of-court settlement of the multimillion-dollar suits against ITT was linked with the corporation's $400,000 pledge to the Republican National Committee.

Anderson, quoting from the memo, described a meeting between Mitchell, Mrs. Beard and former Kentucky Gov. Louie B. Nunn at a small dinner party after last year's Kentucky Derby.

Hume told the committee Mrs. Beard gave him details of the meeting when he confronted her with the memo which she said was written to her boss, W.R. Merriam, head of ITT's Washington office.

"She said the attorney general berated her for the trouble she was causing him by the speeches on the floor of Congress," said Hume. "She had about a dozen speeches made for her telling how badly ITT was being treated."

Hume then said, "She told me the attorney general told her the White House had called him and told him 'to lay off' of ITT."

"I said this is what the President said?"

"She then softened it by saying the President wanted the attorney general to make a reasonable settlement," he said.

the past two decades.

"It is quite clear there are a number of members in this body in 1972 who do not want to open up the system," Kennedy said, implying that the only way to get a voter-registration bill to the floor at all was to bypass the Judiciary Committee.

"This has been an attempt to kill this legislation," Kennedy said. "You just can't make any bones about it."

Earlier Thursday, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott denied allegations that Republicans fear passage of the bill would extend the vote mainly to millions of new Democrats.

But he said he sees no reason to reward voter apathy and said he considers existing local registration systems perfectly adequate.

Declares Busing Reinforces White Superiority Feeling

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Busing minority children to white schools "reinforces in white children any racial superiority feelings they may have," the president of a PTA in a wealthy Dallas suburb says.

Mrs. Richard P. Holmes, president of the Richardson, Tex., council of the PTA, told a Judiciary subcommittee Thursday she opposes using schools to bring about social changes.

She said an artificial separation of the races is wrong, but "the current trend of sending minority children to white schools accomplishes little but ill will."

"It reinforces in white children any racial superiority feelings they may have and it says to the minority children they are somehow improved by the presence of white schoolmates," Mrs. Holmes said.

Edna Wade, president of Unified Concerned Citizens of Alabama Inc., said 278 Alabama schools have been closed since 1968, primarily because of court orders to desegregate.

Mrs. Wade said the middle and upper income parents are taking their children from public schools and have ceased to be interested in improving public education.

"I don't believe in forced anything," Mrs. Wade said. "I believe the people should have the right to choose what they want."

Writer Harry Golden said segregation, not busing, is the issue before the country.

He said a proposed busing ban "should really be known as the 'back-to-Jim-Crow amendment.'"

Golden, editor of the Carolina Israelite in Charlotte, N.C., said he had a remedy for two troublesome problems facing Congress—busing and prayer in the schools.

"Why not amend the Constitution to permit prayers on the bus instead of the classroom?" Golden said.

"We could have praying buses and nonpraying buses," he said.

Low Bid on Millwood Levee Repair Work

Tomlin and Wolfe Co. of Edmond, Okla., submitted the apparent low bid of $240,402 for repair of the levee which protects the Ideal Cement Company in the Millwood Lake area of the Little River near Ashdown, Ark., at a bid opening held today by the Army Engineers of the Tulsa District.

The government estimate was $232,427. There were 4 bidders. The work is to be completed in 180 days.

Col. William F. Read, Tulsa

District Engineer, said the repair work will be done on about 6,600 feet of the downstream slopes of the levee. Included in the work will be the placement of about 81,000 cubic yards of sand fill material and turbing of about 25 acres of eroded areas.

The levee, which was built as part of the Millwood Lake project, is 14,800 feet long and protects the cement plant when the lake is in flood control operation.

Ideal Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The forecast for Saturday is ideal: warm temperatures and no precipitation.

Highs today should be in the 60s and 70s with some readings in the 80s forecast for Saturday. Highs Thursday were mostly in the 60s.

High pressure is producing the warm weather. A high pressure center in Minnesota is preceded by a front which may drift into northeastern Arkansas today. However, the front will have little, if any, effect on the weather picture.

Annual School Elections Scheduled for Tuesday

Annual school elections will be held in Hempstead County Tuesday, March 14, in the six school districts.

They are: Hope School District 1-A, Blevins School District No. 2, Patmos School District No. 9, Spring Hill School District No. 10, Saratoga School District No. 11, and Washington School District No. 12.

Two board members will be voted on in the Hope District for a 3-year term; Nat O. Impson and Harold Bobo are candidates for Position No. 3 and Tom Huff is opposing incumbent William R. Rounton for Position No. 4.

Also on the ballot is a 48-mill school tax and Harry Phillip's name will be on all County ballots as a candidate for the Board of Education for a 5-year term. He is unopposed.

Polling places in the Hope School District are: Box 1-A of Ward One will vote at Hope Fire Station; Box 1-B, 1-C, Rocky Mound and Shover Springs will vote at James Motor Company; Box 1-D and Box 6 will vote at Jones Field House; Box 2-A, 2-B and Guernsey will vote in the little courtroom on the first floor of the Courthouse; Ward 3, Box 5 and Cross Roads will vote at Hope City Hall; Box 4-A and 4-B at Hope Youth Center and Fulton residents will vote at the Fulton library.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7:30 p.m. all over the county.

In Blevins School District, voters will decide on incumbent Lavelle Bonds or Herman Ogburn for Position No. 2, 5-year term and also vote on a 45-mill tax.

Voting precincts: Blevins, Home Ec Cottage; McCaskill, RCI Building and Clow, Community Building.

Patmos electors will vote on Mrs. Louise C. Butler for a one year unexpired term on County Board of Education, David Cummings for 5-year term for Position No. 2 and a 35-mill school tax. Voting precinct is the Town Hall.

Varner Kidd, Charles Irvin and Cecil Rose are candidates for Position No. 2 in Spring Hill School District. This is a 5-year term. Mrs. Butler's name will also be on this ballot as both Patmos and Spring Hill are in Zone No. 1. Voters will also decide on a 45-mill school tax. Voting precinct is the Agri Building.

W. F. Lively is unopposed for Position No. 2 in Saratoga School District. Electors will also vote on a 40-mill school tax.

Voting precincts are: Saratoga, School Building; Columbus, School Building; McNab, Community Center; Blackland Church and Union Hall, both in Howard County.

In the Washington School District, Robert Pryor is unopposed for Position No. 2; there is also a 40-mill school tax.

Voting precincts are: Washington, Elementary School Gym and at Ozan, the Town Hall.

Witness Tries to Involve Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — An investigator for columnist Jack Anderson has offered testimony to the Senate Judiciary Committee that President Nixon was involved in settlement of an antitrust suit against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Brit Hume, the 28-year-old Anderson aide, quoted an ITT lobbyist as saying former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell told her the President wanted the Justice Department to stop pursuing three antitrust suits against the giant conglomerate and make a reasonable settlement.

Mitchell said almost immediately after Hume testified that "the President has never, repeat never, made any request to me directly or indirectly concerning the settlement of the ITT case and I took no part in that settlement."

Anderson and Hume were scheduled to continue their testimony today as the committee began its seventh day of hearings into the accusations by Anderson that Justice Department officials were guilty of improprieties in the ITT settlement.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he wants Dita D. Beard, the ITT lobbyist quoted by Hume, to testify before the committee hearings—

Postcard Registration Spiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of Republican and Southern Democratic senators has seriously crippled attempts to set up a system allowing voters to register with a postcard.

In a 44-37 vote that touched off an attack on the use of the Senate committee system to bottle up legislation, the Senate Thursday refused to table a motion to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee. Only six Republicans supported the motion to table.

That committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., has long been considered by liberal senators as a graveyard for their legislation.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., offered the motion to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee. He called the registration measure an invitation to fraud that opens up the "most monstrous forms of rascality."

The next step in the parliamentary chain will be a vote on whether to send the measure to committee. Even if the Senate decides to keep the measure on the floor, supporters of postcard registration will have to weather a series of amendments and the specter of a filibuster.

The bill would use the Census Bureau and the Postal Service as vehicles to get registration post cards to all potential voters.

Hope School District 13th in Size, 30th Moneywise

The following report was given by Mitchell LaGrone, Chairman of the Finance Sub-Committee of the Citizens Committee For Better Quality Schools, at a meeting held recently in Hope City Hall courtroom.

The recommendations will be submitted to the Hope School Board.

Finance Committee Report

Figures furnished by the State Department of Education indicate that the Hope School District ranks in the top 30 in size in the state of Arkansas. Hempstead County ranks 13th in size in per capita income and has been the No. 1 county in per capita income growth during the last 10 years. At the same time, Hope School District ranks in the lower 20 percent in local taxes. The average millage for the larger 30 school districts is 49.5, whereas Hope receives only 40 mills. This same group spends annually an average of $272 per student from local funds. Hope School District spends $187. The poorest school district in the state of Missouri spends $213 per pupil and the Hope School District ranks well below that.

Our children will in later life compete for jobs with students from Texas which spends up to $5,334 per pupil in local taxes. Most of the money from the increase in millage will be spent for additional classrooms to eliminate the extremely crowded conditions, additional teachers to staff these classrooms, to bring teacher salaries in line with the state average, and to take up the slack in the expected rise in the minimum wage to $2.00 per hour which will affect school bus drivers, janitors, maintenance personnel, cooks, etc. With the several new industries moving into Hope, the over-crowded conditions can only be made worse.

In teacher salaries Hope ranks 57th out of 68 school districts in the 2,000 - 2,999 enrollment. Teacher salaries in the 1970-71 school year in the United States averaged $9,265. The state of Arkansas averaged $6,459, whereas Hope teacher salaries averaged $5,977. Hope was $482 per teacher below the state average and $3,288 below the national average. If our teachers are forced to move to other areas to realize an income at least average in their field, our students and the community in general will suffer since we will be trading good teachers and citizens for those who are not able to secure jobs in the higher paying districts.

The federal government support is presently something above $200,000 annually. When the present school administration building was purchased, the Hope School District paid only 10 percent of the cost and the federal government paid 90 percent. It also made an outright grant of $37,500 for remodeling this building. All furniture and equipment was put in the building at no cost to the school district. Only three people working in this building are paid by local funds and the balance are paid by the federal government.

All federal money received by the school district is earmarked for the implementation of special projects. An example is the remedial classes in which 31 percent of the student body is enrolled. This in itself is evidence that these students have received inadequate instruction at the lower grade levels.

The present method of running the tax assessor's office does not comply with the state laws and is possibly in direct violation of the law. This information is contained in the assessor's manual which is put out by the state of Arkansas. The only way the taxes will ever be equalized in this county is for the citizens to assess their property on a fair value and for the tax assessor and the equalization board to see that this is being done.

The following recommendations are being made by the finance committee:

To the School Administration:

1. Appoint a finance officer or comptroller other than the superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools should not be directly responsible for all finances, public relations, maintenance of property, etc., as he is doing at present. This job is being done by one man since funds are not available to have adequate personnel to perform these duties.

2. Break the school district budget down into cost centers in each school with the principal of each school being responsible for keeping his or her costs within the budget.

3. Change the form and frequency of reporting income and expense to the financial position at all times.

4. Have someone in training for the highly important positions such as the superintendent of schools. This is not evident at present. Mr. Jimmy Jones, the superintendent, is scheduled to retire at the end of the 1973 school year, and because of lack of funds, it is impossible to have someone hired and trained to

5. Designate a public relations officer in charge of getting vital information to the radio, newspaper, and public in general in a simple, direct manner in order to eliminate the gross misunderstanding of school operations and problems by the public.

6. Set up more long-range planning, for at least 10 years, including priorities for additional schools, teachers, and other facilities. These goals and priorities should be established on the assumption that property owners (taxpayers) will demand these additional facilities to relieve over-crowded conditions.

To the Tax Assessor, County Judge, and Equalization Board:

1. Read carefully and attempt to understand the problems of the Hope School District being publicized by the Citizens Committee for Better Quality Schools.

2. Take the schools out of politics. Assess property according to the assessor's handbook—Do Not Buy Votes With Our Children's Future.

3. Help form an atmosphere whereby the school, the elected officials, and the general public can work in harmony to create better quality schools for our children.

To the Voting Public in Hope School District:

1. Vote for the 8 mill increase to help solve the immediate needs.
2. Work with the Citizens Committee for Better Quality Schools in our continued attempt to get taxes equalized. The millage increase is only a temporary measure to keep the schools operating. Our primary concern is to get all taxable property on the tax books at a fair value. When we do this we can decrease millage and still maintain strong schools.

Members of the Finance Committee are: Bob Dillard, Tom Jackson, George Holt, Royce Pendergrass, Mr. and Mrs. Crit Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharp, Ronnie Burson and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell LaGrone.

Halts Shipments of Pesticides

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency ordered an immediate halt today to interstate shipment of pesticides registered for predator control and began a recall of existing stocks.

Included in the ban was thallium sulfate, a rodent poison often misused to control livestock predators.

The federal government last Feb. 8 barred the use of poisons for predator control on public land and in federal programs except in emergencies.

The action by William D. Ruckelshaus today, however, takes these poisons off the commercial market immediately while opening action toward their permanent cancellation from the federal registration program. Ruckelshaus is administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The action affects 19 products containing four poisonous compounds: thallium sulfate, cyanide, strychnine, and sodium monofluoracetate, commonly known as "1080."

Two more thallium sulfate products were suspended last June as the probable cause of 20 eagle killings in Wyoming.

Ruckelshaus said the predator poisons "represent an imminent hazard to the public welfare through the indiscriminate destruction of our valuable wildlife resources."

Farmers and ranchers have often used the poisons in bait set out to kill animals which attack their cattle and sheep, but the poisons sometimes find their way to other innocent species killing them instead.

India Premier Has Troubles

By MYRON L. BELKIND

Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's opponents are trying to transform India's victory over Pakistan into political embarrassment for Mrs. Gandhi by claiming she called off the army too soon.

The issue is unlikely to sway enough votes in this week's state elections to damage her party. But controversy is potentially troublesome for the government and particularly to Mrs. Gandhi, hailed as a national heroine after the war.

Opposition politicians, primarily from the right-wing Hindu nationalist Jana Sangh party, have criticized the prime minister for declaring a unilateral cease-fire that ended the war the day after East Pakistan fell to the Indian Army and Bangladesh guerrilla forces.

The critics argue that Mrs. Gandhi should have permitted the war to continue for several more days to give numerically superior Indian forces time to cripple the Pakistani armed forces in West Pakistan.

As it is, they say, the Pakistani military is still formidable, though deprived of 94,000 soldiers held prisoner by India since the war. Pakistan still fields about 230,000 men, compared to India's estimated 930,000.

Mrs. Gandhi herself has fueled the controversy by frequently warning that another war with Pakistan is possible. She has reiterated the warning several times since publication of the communique issued after President Nixon's China visit. In it, the Chinese urged self-termination for the long-disputed territory of Kashmir.

Kashmir is claimed by both India and Pakistan and they fought wars for it in 1948 and 1965.

Authoritative sources say some senior officials and officers in the Indian Defense Ministry had, from a strictly military view, hoped the Indian forces would get the opportunity to deal a severe blow to the Pakistani forces on the western front.

"We did not count on the unilateral cease-fire on the western front," one senior official said soon after the war. "Another 10 days would have insured there would be no future wars between India and Pakistan. But Mrs. Gandhi did what is considered an act of statesmanship in declaring the cease-fire. Only time will tell if she was right."

Lead in Paint Banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today banned all except trace amounts of lead in paint by the end of 1973 "to minimize the health hazard to future generations."

Over vigorous protests from the paint industry, the FDA ordered reduction of lead in paint from one per cent to five-tenths of one per cent by the end of 1972 and to six-hundredths of one per cent by the end of 1973.

An estimated 400,000 children suffer from lead poisoning which can cause brain damage and death. Flaking paint in pre-World War II housing has been identified as a major source of lead poisoning.

Dr. Merlin K. DuVal, assistant secretary of Health and Scientific Affairs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told a Senate subcommittee today that lead paint poisoning results in 200 deaths annually and costs the nation $200 million a year in lost earnings and care of victims.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards said he may decide later to speed up the de-leading order after the industry has provided additional information by April 7.

"Consideration will also be given in late 1973 to petitions for extension of the implementation date upon a showing that the public health will not be jeopardized and that technological necessity requires additional time to meet the six-hundredths of one per cent maximum lead level," he said.

The FDA said some paint companies have reported they could meet the requirement sooner than the deadline.

The ban will apply to paint intended for use on residential interior surfaces, toys and other children's articles.

Earlier this week HEW's Bureau of Community Environmental Management clamped a one per cent lead level on paint in residential structures wholly or partially financed with federal funds.

Congressional Compromise to Curb, Treat Drug Abuse

By CARL C. CRAFT

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional compromise calls for investing $1 billion in a nationwide three-year campaign to curb drug abuse and treat thousands trapped by their habit.

Senate-House conferees agreed Thursday night on a plan for uniting federal anti-drug efforts under a special White House office until mid-1975. Then, a new national institute would take over control of drug-fighting activities.

A chief compromise-seeker, Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., head of the House public health subcommittee, told reporters he believes the Nixon administration is pleased with the final terms of the bill.

President Nixon had urged creation of the special-action office. It would bring together scattered federal antidrug programs and set uniform policy.

The House voted 380 to 0 last month for a $411-million, three-year program. It contained several conflicts with a version—calling for $1.5 billion over five years—that the Senate passed by 92 to 0 last December.

The compromise's main features include creation of a center for training on techniques of drug-abuse prevention and a wide range of programs for treatment; use of 350 existing community mental-health centers linked in a national network of treatment facilities, and funds for finding a new non-addicting agent as a substitute for methadone in fighting heroin addiction.

In addition, the compromise would assign $350 million to an extensive string of special programs and project grants ranging from prevention activities in state and local prisons to assistance in vocational rehabilitation.

The conferees retained the House stance in a controversy involving handling of drug-treatment programs for veterans. The House had rejected a bid to strip reference to Veterans Administration drug-treatment programs from the legislation that would bring all federal antidrug activities under the special-action office.

Deferment Hearings to Be Resumed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service told local draft boards today they may resume hearing the appeals of thousands of young men seeking deferments or exemptions.

The action ended a three-month freeze on such hearings before 4,100 local boards.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr said the move completes a two-year overhaul of the draft system, moving it from a state-local focus to President Nixon's goal of a national system.

With Tarr's order, action can be taken on the 22,486 men who at last count on Jan. 31, had pending requests for personal appearances before draft boards or appeals to state and national boards. Several thousand others have applied since then and are awaiting action.

Tarr suspended all deferment hearings on Dec. 10 to re-evaluate the original reclassification proposals that had been criticized as unfair. When revamped rules were issued Jan. 12 he kept the brakes on so those seeking deferments or exemptions could take advantage of the revised rules.

One of several new rules announced today allows a registrant who has his draft callup postponed to receive consideration from his local board for a reopening of his classification proceedings.

This is an amendment to the Jan. 12 rule that gives a man 15 days after his draft classification is mailed to request a personal appearance or to appeal.

The new rules also require state appeals boards and the national appeals board to give at least 15 days notice when a man is granted a personal appearance. Previously no personal appearances were granted before appeals boards.

Another change permits draftees to bring witnesses on their behalf before local boards.

The new rules also require: —A quorum of board members to be present during a man's personal appearance.

—A man's local board—as well as appeals boards—to give him the reasons for rejection of his classification request.

This is an amendment to the Jan. 12 rule that gives a man 15 days after his draft classification is mailed to request a personal appearance or to appeal.

The new rules also require state appeals boards and the national appeals board to give at least 15 days notice when a man is granted a personal appearance. Previously no personal appearances were granted before appeals boards.

Another change permits draftees to bring witnesses on their behalf before local boards.

The new rules also require: —A quorum of board members to be present during a man's personal appearance.

—A man's local board—as well as appeals boards—to give him the reasons for rejection of his classification request.

Renault Executive Freed by Kidnapers

By DAVID MASON

Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — A Renault executive who was kidnaped by revenge-seeking Maoists was released apparently unharmed today in Paris' Left Bank student quarter.

Robert Nogrette, 63, walked into a laundry shortly after his release and tried to telephone his wife to tell her his 48-hour ordeal was over. But he couldn't get through, so he called police and a radio car was dispatched to drive him to a police station.

"He seemed very tired and nervous," the laundry owner said, but he appeared uninjured.

Nogrette was kidnaped Wednesday by four men, some carrying submachine guns, as he walked to the plant in suburban Boulogne-Billancourt of France's state-owned automobile company. He worked there as a personnel executive.

The abduction touched off one of the largest manhunts in recent French history and brought widespread expressions of indignation, including a sharp denunciation by President Georges Pompidou.

There was no indication whether authorities had made any deal with the kidnapers or whether any of the gang had been captured.

The kidnaping had its roots in a demonstration Feb. 25 by a group of Maoists at the 35,000-worker Renault plant.

When the Maoists attempted to enter the plant gates, guards intervened and one of their chiefs fired a pistol killing Pierre Overney, 23.

The security agent, Jean-Antoine Tramoni, who said he believed his life was in danger, was charged with homicide.

Nogrette's kidnaping was sharply criticized by all major political parties and the press, with only extreme left splinter groups expressing some sympathy for the demands of the Maoists.

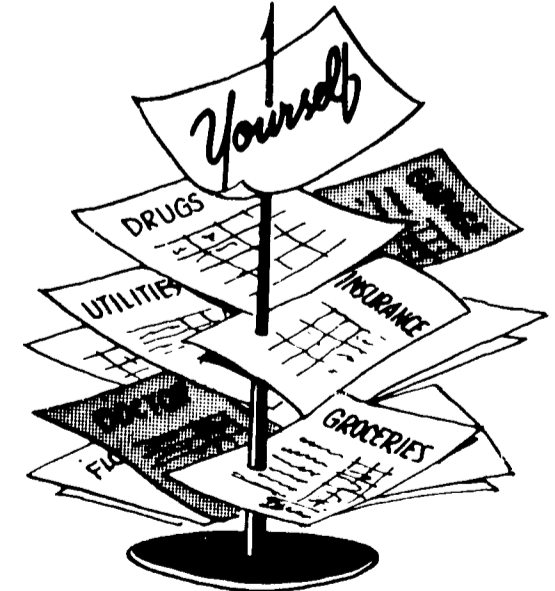

The young leftists had demanded that demonstrators arrested during the Feb. 25 clash be released that sympathetic employees who were fired be put back on the payroll.

Pompidou declared Thursday the kidnaping was an act "worthy of a country of savages." He had issued orders mobilizing thousands of police to raid apartments of suspected Maoists and possible hideouts.

Prime Rate Again Dips

NEW YORK (AP) — First National City Bank, the nation's second biggest commercial bank, said today its prime lending rate will be increased from 4 1/2 per cent to 4 3/4 per cent effective Monday.

The announcement marked the first upward turn of the prime since last July, when it moved from 5 1/2 to 6 per cent in a short-lived reversal of a decline from a high of 8 1/2 per cent in 1969.

Most other commercial banks in the country have held their prime rates at 4 3/4 per cent since late January and there were no immediate reports today that they would boost their rates and follow Citibank's lead.

The prime lending rate is the interest charged by banks on short-term loans to big corporate customers. Citibank's rate is one of the most sensitive in the nation, since it is one of a handful of "floating" prime rates adjusted more or less automatically by a formula pegged to money market conditions.

Although there is no direct link, movement in the prime rate generally shows up in the long run in higher lower rates for consumer loans—credit for home improvements, autos and other items.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — James Whitmore's one-man show about Will Rogers, in which he has been touring for more than a year, was brought to the CBS television audience Thursday night.

Rogers, who died in a plane crash in 1935, had been wit, a diffident and gentle manner which combined with a broad grin permitted him to get away with almost anything on stage and radio because he was funny. His style and commentary might be too sharp to handle in these thin-skinned days of television.

Whitmore's material, covering many years, was obviously edited for contemporary applicability and was smoothly pulled together. The hour was filmed as Whitmore worked on the stage of Los Angeles' Mark Taper Forum.

The actor first appeared on stage as himself—a gray-haired man in slacks and sports jacket. After a few introductory remarks, he removed his jacket, displayed a bandana around his neck and stuck a cowboy hat on the back of his head. He picked up a rope, slouched—and without any tricks of make-up suddenly was easily identifiable as Rogers.

The program probably contained the cream of Rogers' wit, starting with grinning pokes at his favorite target, the politician—"the local bandit sent to Washington to raid headquarters."

It was a tour de force for Whitmore, and an interesting program for the viewer.

The program was the first of three hours of specials on CBS. It was followed by a cool and temperate report on school busing for purposes of integration. Roger Mudd handled reports on the programs in school systems in Richmond, Va., where tempers have been running high; in Pontiac, Mich., where trouble broke out in the fall; and in Pasadena, Calif., where it seems to be working out well.

Pros and cons of the subject were examined carefully, and the program maintained as its central point that the purpose of such busing is to provide quality education for all children. It was a helpful program that showed the problems but was unable to offer much of a general solution.

The network wound up the evening with an informal roundtable discussion by four correspondents on their impressions of China during the eight days of the presidential visit.

Gena Rowlands: On Way to Star Status

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—It's nice to see Gena Rowlands getting the acclaim she deserves. She has always been one of the acting world's great beauties and recognized as a fine actress. For some reason she never became the big star everyone figured she would be.

Maybe one reason is inside herself. "I'm a split personality," she says. "I'm a true Gemini, torn between acting and home life. I've always been that way."

But now, in "Minnie and Moskowitz," she comes through so strongly and so lovingly that she has finally become a force in this town. From now on watch her smoke.

"Minnie and Moskowitz" was made by her husband, John Cassavetes. It is his first film—"Faces" and "Husbands" were earlier ones—which can be enjoyed by everyone. And it's John who pushed her out of the house and back in front of the camera.

"The only way I could survive with that division inside me," Gena says, "is because of John."

"After one of my many retirements, he said to me, 'Get out of the house—I married an actress and you're living under false pretenses.' He told a friend, who told me, that he had fallen in love with Dietrich when he was a boy and married me because he thought I looked something like her."

So now she's back, another retirement ended, and this time she says she's back for keeps. There's talk of her doing a film with Steve McQueen. John is writing another script for her and there are other things in the works.

"I'd like to do a TV movie, too," she says, "because there are two different audiences out there. I want to keep up with both of them."

In "Minnie and Moskowitz," Cassavetes uses many amateur actors, like his mother, Katherine, and Gena's mother, Lady. He likes working with them, but Gena says he's not above pulling a few sneaky tricks on both amateurs and professionals.

For a big scene in "Minnie" Seymour Cassel and somebody had a fight. Cassavetes cast the sound boom man for the somebody. Until the big scene came along, he played on both of them, telling each that the other didn't like him, so they went into the scene angry. And it worked.

Texarkana, Texas 75501

Q. I am over 65, but I am earning too much to receive social security payments. If I don't work in two or three months of the year may I receive social security payments for those months?

A. Yes, regardless of how much you earn in a year, you may receive social security payments for any month in which you do not earn over $140 in employment nor work substantially in self-employment. You should notify social security of any month you do earn over this limit so that payment can be made.

Q. What records should I bring with me when I apply for social security retirement payments?

A. Bring your social security card and evidence of your date of birth, such as a birth or baptismal certificate. If these are not available, bring other records of your age such as a school record, an old insurance policy, or the birth certificates of your children that shows your age. If you worked last year bring a copy of your 1970 tax return or Form W-2 showing the amount of your earnings. This information will help us to process your claim more quickly.

Q. My neighbor told me that she takes care of all her social security business by phone. How is this possible?

A. It is true that most social security business can now be done by phone, just telephone your nearest office and tell them what you need. From Hope, you should telephone the Texarkana office, collect. The area code is 214 phone 794-3755.

Q. A friend of mine lives in a rural area and she told me that she filed her application for social security benefits by telephone. Is this service available to those of us who live in Hope?

A. Yes, Teleservice, as we call it, is available to anyone who wants to use it. You may telephone collect, whether you want to file a claim or ask a question.

Q. I am widowed and live alone. It is difficult for me to go to the social security office since I do not drive. Is there any way that my social security business can be handled without my going to the office?

A. Yes! Most social security business can be handled by phone. The next time you need something, just telephone your social security office and tell them what you need.

Why Wives Endure Cruel Mates

DEAR HELEN:

When I read the letter from "Afraid," whose husband beat her and the children, yet she didn't run, I thought, "That could have been me years ago."

I lived in complete fear of a brutal husband. And my fear extended to the conviction that I'd die of shame if relatives, friends, anyone, found out. So I covered (and covered), took the blows meant for the children whenever I could—and kept quiet. In those days, it was considered the wife's lot to bear whatever her husband did to her—for where else could the mother of seven children go? My face and body are disfigured from his brutality.

The cold facts hit me when I discovered my husband had sexually assaulted our two oldest daughters. It wasn't until years later I learned that their fear of more beatings kept them from telling me.

We finally left, under threat of death. We actually thought he'd come after us and kill us—but we found out that bullies back down fast when the law, the church and society fight back.

Why am I uncovering bitter memories? Because perhaps my story will help others to realize they MUST get help for themselves and for mates whose wild tempers and excesses can kill or maim a child.

There would be no battered children if we'd start protecting the right people—ourselves and our children against the sickness of cruelty.

DEAR SHOCKED:

On the contrary, the published results of this free drug analysis may keep many tempted persons from buying illegal dope "on the street."

When people discover from sources they can't challenge that what they think is relatively "harmless" mescaline is actually heavy LSD; when they learn that LSD is often mixed with strychnine, and the pills that made them freak out are animal tranquilizers—perhaps they'll think twice about taking chances with their health.

Also, they'll learn how often they are cheated. Surveys have shown that perhaps three-fourths of the street-drugs are cut or adulterated: marijuana can be mostly authentic "grass" (alfalfa, leafy spice plants, etc.); cocaine, monosodium glutamate; heroin, sugar.

I think these college lab analyses are another potent way of getting the truth out. And the complete truth about illegal drugs is already turning many young people away from them. —H.

Britons Are Gambling

LONDON (AP) — Britons are gambling more than $5 billion a year, and most of them are losing, says a church report issued today.

Gambling is probably less of a problem than alcoholism, said the study by the Interdenominational Churches' Council, "but almost certainly exceeds that of addiction to drugs." It could become a major social problem unless tighter control laws are put in force, the council said.

Probably a million Britons bet regularly, more than double the number before the government legalized off-track betting 12 years ago, said the author of the report, the Rev. Gordon E. Moody, the council's secretary.

Most of them are content with a flutter of a few pence each week on the horses, the dogs or the soccer games. But "the numbers of hardcore and compulsive gamblers has at least doubled in the past 10 years," Moody continued. "For them, gambling is life. It takes the place in their lives, not so much of a hobby, as of work and the normal ambitions and goals."

U of A Board Increases Price of Grid Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Despite some misgivings that the Arkansas Razorbacks might lose some fan support, the Board of Trustees of the University of Arkansas voted Thursday to increase football ticket prices from $6 to $7.

The board's action raised the price of end zone tickets from $3 to $4 to a uniform $5.

The new prices will become effective next year at both Fayetteville and Little Rock games.

The increase was needed to meet rising costs of operating the university's athletic program, according to Athletic Director George Cole and head football coach Frank Broyles.

Cole said that to maintain its competitiveness with other SWC schools, Arkansas had to find new sources of money.

"The ticket is the cheapest thing a man has when he goes to a football game," Cole said.

Board member Roy Ritter of Springdale opposed the timing of the increase, seeking a delay of one year. He said to raise prices at this time would risk public support of the Razorbacks because of what he said was a controversy over the athletic department's plan to raise funds for a $1,760,000 capital improvement program.

Under the plan, scholarship contributors would receive priority in the sale of choice football tickets.

Louis Ramsey of Pine Bluff, a board member, said he would support a delay of a couple of weeks so that the board could study the financial condition of the athletic department. He said he thought the increase was merited, but that the delay would give the fans time to understand reasons for it.

John Wilson of Hope, also a board member, said there should be no delay. He said he was shocked to learn from university officials that Arkansas' athletic facilities were the worst in the Southwest Conference.

Deep Freeze for Sonics

By BETTY HOPPER
Associated Press Sports Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics, their play-off hopes perhaps washed away by the rain, were pelted by the Philadelphia 76ers and could be put in the deep freeze today by Golden State.

The 76ers, zipping through the wet spots on the Coliseum floor, slipped past Seattle 128-123 Thursday night in the second game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader to drop the Sonics 1½ games behind Golden State in the Pacific Division race and three games back in the loss column.

Houston's Rudy Tomjanovich scored 16 points in the fourth quarter to lead Houston to a 114-111 victory over Portland's Trail Blazers in the opening contest.

The buzzer boomed and Adolph Rupp bounded off the bench, rushing to the side of his sweet Kentucky babes.

There was no sign of chronic bad legs.

"I was mighty proud of my boys," said the basketball monarch after his Kentucky Wildcats beat Tennessee 67-66 Thursday night for a share of the Southeastern Conference title and a berth in the NCAA playoffs.

Rupp was just a kid again, shaking countless hands and twitching animatedly through his grinning players.

"We knew Tennessee would be tough," said Rupp, tasting the joy of another SEC winner at the age of 70. "We had to scrap all the way."

Rupp's 27th conference title wasn't fashioned easily. Pre-season favorites, the Wildcats had to play catch-up to Tennessee in the last few weeks.

"They simply outthought us and deserved to win," said Tennessee Coach Ray Mears,

Rice Football Player Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — Freshman linebacker Bill English, scheduled to begin spring training at Rice next week, has died of a cardiac arrest.

English, a second team all-state quarterback from Refugio, died in the intensive care unit at Methodist Hospital Thursday. He had been taken to the hospital Wednesday after he collapsed in a doctor's office.

Officials said English had no previous heart condition.

English, 19, threw 34 touchdown passes for Refugio in 1970, was president of the student body and maintained an 87 grade average.

"I speak for everyone in the Rice Athletic Department when I express our deep grief at the tragic news of Bill's passing," Rice Athletic Director Red Bale said.

Mr. and Mrs. John English of Refugio were at their son's bedside.

Mitchell Grabs Lead at Citrus

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Mitchell gambled and won—this time—but pro golf's grim-eyed high rollers were in hot pursuit of the drawing Virginian today in the second round of the $150,000 Florida Citrus Open golf tournament.

Mitchell, who went six under par with a gambling birdie on the 15th hole at the wind-swept Rio Pinar Country Club course, had an early first round 66 Thursday and it stood up for the lead all day.

But Lee Trevino was just two strokes back at 68 and warned: "The putts are starting to fall. I've got the right speed and I'm beginning to make some, just like I said I would."

Gary Player, the South African who always ranks as a major threat, was another stroke back in a group of a half dozen at 69. So was veteran Tommy Bolt.

Jack Nicklaus, 59-year-old San Snead and Masters champion Charles Coody were in a big bunch at 70.

"Actually, it was a pretty good round of golf," said Nicklaus, the only two-time champion this year and the man who just took over Arnold Palmer's accustomed spot atop the all-time money winning list. "Everything considered, I'm not too disappointed."

Palmer, the defending champion, matched par 72 but was far from discouraged.

"I still didn't hit the driver like I'd like to," he said. "And I didn't make one, single, solitary putt all day. But with a good round tomorrow I'd be right back in it."

Tennessee State Tops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tennessee State wound up as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' final college division basketball poll and now must prove its worth in the NCAA playoffs.

The Tigers will find that pretty tough to do, if Thursday night's South regional game was any indication of things to come.

They managed a bitter 80-79 victory over Louisiana State of New Orleans as time ran out on the losers.

The game was the first of a doubleheader. Delta State coasted to a 71-59 triumph over Transylvania (Pa.) in the nightcap.

In the other college division playoff games, Evansville defeated Wittenberg, Ohio, 81-73 and Eastern Michigan edged Kentucky Wesleyan 61-59 in the Great Lakes regionals and Roanoke beat Mercer 78-72 and Biscayne bopped Florida Southern 68-62 in the South Atlantic.

The winners all moved into the finals of each tourney today.

Tennessee State's 23rd victory in 24 games this season was a tight squeeze. The Tigers lost most of a 12-point lead with two minutes left as Louisiana State rallied behind the shooting of Melvin Henderson and John Hamilton.

Henderson drilled in a layup with three seconds remaining, but there simply wasn't enough time to catch Tennessee State.

Delta State had an easier time with Transylvania. The statesmen, led by Don Cooper and Jesse Palmer, had a 34-27 halftime lead and opened it from there. Cooper scored 26 points and Palmer hit 16.

Play was stopped momentarily in the bruising contest as spectators threw paper cups on the floor when several technical fouls were called against Delta State.

Evansville, the defending college division champion, outscored Wittenberg 19-11 in the final seven minutes for a comeback victory. The Ohio team had a 47-40 lead at the half.

Indell Reason converted two free throws with two seconds remaining to give Eastern Michigan a hard-fought victory over Kentucky Wesleyan. The winners' George Gervin had hit a free toss to tie the game before Reason's clinching shots.

Roanoke took the lead just before the end of the first half and never trailed after intermission, although Mercer twice tied the score in the last 20 minutes. Biscayne hit 14 free throws in the last 11 minutes to beat Florida Southern.

Hall Defeats Fayetteville

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Hall jumped to an 18-13 first quarter lead and increased the margin each quarter to roll over Fayetteville 67-39 in quarterfinal action of the state Class AAA-AAAA basketball tournament in Little Rock Thursday.

In other quarterfinal games, Little Rock Parkview clipped Fort Smith Northside 61-48 and El Dorado downed Hot Springs 49-46.

Hall had increased its margin over Fayetteville to 48-38 going into the final period and outscored Fayetteville 19-5 in the final frame.

Clifton Lewis led Hall with 23 points and Jay Stewart added 17. Craig Curry had 14 for Fayetteville.

Parkview broke open a close game in the final quarter to defeat Northside.

The Patriots led seven points at halftime, 33-26, but Northside pulled to within 45-42 entering the final period.

Parkview pumped in 16 points in the fourth quarter while holding Northside to six to gain the victory.

Dexter Reed paced Parkview with 18 points and Alfred Lowe had 13.

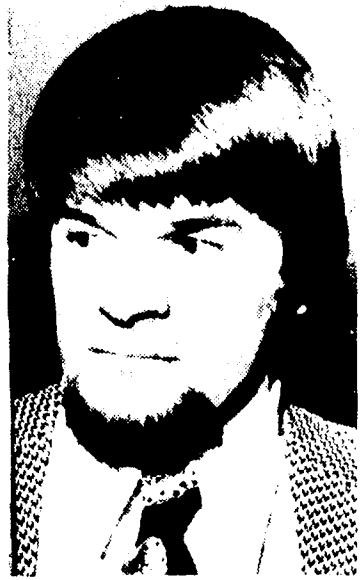

Tom Carson was the leading Northside scorer with 17 points.

The El Dorado-Hot Springs game was decided in the last minute of the game.

canned a field goal with 47 seconds left to give the Wildcats a 45-44 lead.

Freddy Anderson hit from underneath with 15 seconds left to raise the El Dorado margin to three, 47-44.

James White narrowed the lead to one, 47-46, with less than 10 seconds to go, but Jim Crow hit two free throws after time was out to give El Dorado a three-point margin in the final score.

Crow and Anderson led the Wildcats with 14 points apiece. Tommy Cottrell and John Slats each had 11 for Hot Springs and Pete Campbell scored 10.

Torre Is a High Priced Picket

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
If major league baseball players go on strike, Joe Torre will be one of the country's highest-priced pickets.

Torre agreed to a two-year contract with the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, ending his spring holdout a few hours after the Chicago White Sox had voted 31-0 to authorize a possible player strike.

The unanimous White Sox vote came following a 90-minute meeting with Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association.

The bone of contention is an acceptable increase for the current pension agreement which expires March 31. Miller, who is touring the spring training camps of all teams, asked for the vote following a Wednesday meeting with John Gaherin, chief negotiator for the owners. According to Miller, the owners scaled down a $372,000 increase offered in January to $250,000 at Wednesday's meeting.

The reduction, according to Miller, meant the owners were "deliberately trying to provoke a players' strike. That's the only way you can explain that kind of negotiating behavior," Miller said.

Miller said the strike could take several forms. The players might refuse to work after March 31 or refuse to play in any Saturday afternoon or Monday night game scheduled for national television, according to the players' negotiator.

Cecil Upshaw, Atlanta's player rep, who ended his holdout only a few days ago, said, "I will take no action until I hear from Marvin. I haven't heard of the possibility of a strike, but I don't think any player wants to go that far."

"We'd rather have everybody's mind on baseball rather than thinking about the possibility of a players' strike," said Harry Dalton, general manager of the California Angels. Billy Cowan, the Angels player spokesman, said, "no one has really given it much thought. We're just sitting back, waiting to see what happens."

Buzzie Bavasi, president of the San Diego Padres, said he expected to have full details of the conflict when the National League owners meet in St. Petersburg March 22. "It's nice to know," said Bavasi, "that the players are in a position where they feel they can afford to strike."

Meanwhile, Torre, the National League's Most Valuable Player last season, finally agreed to terms with the Cardinals. The slugging third baseman, whose .363 batting average and 137 runs batted in led the league, accepted a two-year contract that reportedly calls for $130,000 in 1972 and $150,000 next season.

Coach Gets Promotion

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Bob King, head basketball coach at the University of New Mexico for the past 10 years, was named UNM assistant athletic director Thursday night.

King's assistant, Norm Ellenberger, was chosen as head basketball coach.

King will work with assistant athletic director John Dolzadelli, who will retire July 1, a spokesman said.

King arrived in New Mexico in 1962 and took over a basketball program that had dragged through eight straight losing seasons.

In his 10 years at UNM, King compiled a 172-89 record. New Mexico has won the NIT title three times, and appeared in the NCAA Western regionals in 1968.

Haywood Out for Season

SEATTLE (AP) — Spencer Haywood, the Seattle SuperSonics top scorer, will be out for the rest of the season while the Sonics battle for the remaining playoff spot in the Pacific Division of the National Basketball Association.

Seattle is one game out of second place behind Golden State.

Haywood injured his knee Sunday when he slipped on a wet spot on the floor of the Seattle Center Coliseum during a game with Atlanta.

The Sonics filed a claim against the city Wednesday for "gross negligence" for not repairing the leaky roof of the Coliseum.

Miss Goolagong displayed a fierce and disciplined as she defeated Valerie Ziegenfuss of Canada 6-0, 6-3.

2 Modern Huck Finns Face Parents' Wrath

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two modern-day Huckleberry Finns were back in Nashville Thursday night facing parental wrath after a three-day voyage on the mighty Mississippi.

Jim Ferguson and Darryl Morton, both 16, set sail for New Orleans last Friday in a $105 aluminum boat equipped with two cases of pork and beans, two paddles, a shotgun and a piece of canvas.

Their adventure ended Wednesday when a twoboat captain stopped his massive tow to fish the aluminum shell and its occupants from the rain-swollen river 45 miles below Memphis.

The boys, who said they were tired of Nashville, gave a friend 35 stereo tapes to drive them to Memphis, where they put their vessel in the river early Saturday.

"It wasn't bad at all on the first day," Morton said. "After all that paddling, the pork and beans tasted great."

In Nashville, however, parents had begun a frantic search for the young sailors.

Sunday brought rain and 40 m.p.h. winds to the river, forcing the boys to "hole up" in the Tennessee Chute, a big cove on the Arkansas side of the Mississippi.

They were back in the channel Tuesday but the river's mighty current and passing towboat and barge wakes threatened to swamp the boat.

"We kept trying to paddle against it," Morton said, but the boat kept heading toward that barge. Finally we stuck out the paddles and used them against the barge's side to keep from going under it."

Passing fishing boats, aware of the alert that had by then been broadcast by the Coast Guard for the boys, told them their parents were worried about their fate.

But Ferguson and Morton kept the bow of their craft headed toward Louisiana.

Late Wednesday, however, Capt. A. L. Hancock of the towboat Penny of Cassville, halted his boat and string of barges to pick them up.

"They are a couple of lucky boys...They never would have made it to New Orleans without being swamped," Hancock said.

"I wasn't going to do it until I heard they were only 16," the captain said. "The wakes would certainly have swamped the aluminum shell," he added.

By that time, the pork and beans diet had become monotonous and the boys settled down to some serious eating aboard the towboat.

Morton admitted to four pork chops, three pieces of fried chicken, a bowl of potatoes, some pears, cookies, a half gallon of ice cream, pie, eggs, cornbread and 15 glasses of tea.

Ferguson said he ate more than his companion.

Both boys were greeted by juvenile authorities in Nashville after returning home with their boat Wednesday.

Morton, who has a session with a counselor scheduled for Monday, said he would never again run away.

Ferguson, however, didn't think the adventure was that bad.

The next time, he said, he intends to choose someone else to handle the second oar.

"I might move along again but I don't think I'll go on the river with Darryl. He can't swim a stroke."

Interracial Family Ignoring Stares

By G. G. LA BELLE
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Artie and Rosemary Wells don't notice the stares anymore when they go out with their two young sons.

The Wells are among a growing number of white couples who have adopted black children.

They expect stares—and some questions—from both whites and blacks.

"It's curiosity, I guess," says Mrs. Wells. "You can almost see their minds working, asking the question, 'I wonder what happened there?'"

The Wells children are light-skinned Negroes, David, 4, and John, 15 months.

Mrs. Wells, 29, says that stares, questions and the knowledge that some people are uncomfortable around them are a small price to pay for having children.

She feels fortunate to have had only those problems. As a member of a group encouraging interracial adoptions, she has heard of white couples who encountered insults and threats after adopting a black child.

The Wells have had no such problem in their racially mixed, working-class neighborhood here. Neither, says Mrs. Wells, did they meet any hostility on vacations in the South.

In fact, says Mrs. Wells, one problem is people who are overly friendly. She says she resents it when someone becomes "gushy" about what she and her husband are doing for integration.

They didn't adopt the youngsters for that reason.

In 1968, when the Wells decided to adopt, they were told they would have to wait a year for a white child. They were impatient, and when a doctor suggested they adopt a black child, they decided to do it.

"Our main concern was in getting a child," she said.

The decision the Wells faced is one increasingly confronting white couples seeking to adopt. The number of white children available has been reduced by improved birth control methods, liberalized abortion laws and new social standards which encourage unwed mothers to keep their children.

"You either face up to the fact that you are going to adopt an interracial child, a black child or no child," said Mrs. Wells.

Most important, said Wells, is the couple's own prejudice.

"It's a hard word to get out," his wife said. "It takes a few times to say, 'My son is a Negro.'"

South's jump to four spades is one of those all purpose preempts. He doesn't know if he can make it but he knows it's a good gamble.

West leads the three of diamonds. South goes up with one of dummy's high diamonds and leads a trump. West wins with the ace and has to decide between a heart or a club lead.

If he leads a club, South will collect the rest of the tricks and make a slam. If he leads a heart, East will win and give West a ruff whereupon a second heart trick will set declarer at his game contract.

In an expert partnership, West will have no problem with his lead at trick three. East will have dropped the jack of diamonds at trick one. West will know that his partner isn't showing diamond strength. He will also know that he isn't giving a count.

All East can be doing with that jack play is giving a suit preference signal to say "Partner, if you do get in, lead hearts, the higher ranking suit."

As a matter of fact, a very expert partnership might set the hand two tricks. West would lead his fourth best heart, the three. East would know that under these circumstances West would not lead fourth best from a suit headed by nothing at all. Hence, West would be showing the king of hearts by his low lead. Hoggish expert East would win the first heart with the queen, give his partner a diamond ruff, get in again with the ace and give him a second ruff.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB
Behavior Change Demands Attention

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I read your article which said that there was no healing of the brain cells that were damaged by a stroke. I was wondering if an aneurysm operation could cause damage to the brain cells. Could a psychiatrist or psychoanalyst or pills help? Three years ago my son had that operation and here is what I have noticed in his behavior since: very nervous, lies a lot, cannot take pressure of any kind, forgetful, cannot find work he likes, fear, reads a lot about suicide, reads a lot about dirty sex, not too many friends. He had none of this before the operation and he does not take drugs or drink.

Dear Reader—It is very difficult in medicine to establish a direct cause and effect relationship, particularly in problems related to the personality. These events may have occurred normally as the years passed, totally independent of the operation. I presume when you say aneurysm you are talking about a dilated artery in the brain because of the question of brain damage. Brain damage can follow almost any kind of operation if there are complications. Frankly psychotic behavior often occurs after open heart surgery. Fortunately, it usually disappears in time.

If your son has really had a significant change in personality, it would be a good idea for him to see a psychiatrist. A psychiatrist could help him a lot and anybody who reads a lot about suicide needs help. The problem should not be ignored.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 50 years old and have had coronary artery disease for more than two years. My doctor says it is not severe enough for medicine. I get severe pain over the left breast and left arm after exertion or when I begin to tire. How long do you have to live with this disease before you need to get help for it?

Dear Reader If the pain you are talking about is caused by your heart, you could take nitroglycerin tablets. That is what they are for. Your letter isn't explicit enough for me to be certain that your pain, however really is related to the heart disease that you state you have. Typically, the exertional pain from heart disease occurs at the time one is doing the exertion and not some time afterward.

Of course, you can have heart pain even at rest, but that usually means something else. If you are having pain very often, why don't you ask your doctor if he won't give you nitroglycerin tablets that you slip under your tongue to stop the pain? People who have pain with exertion caused by the heart can learn what amount of exercise will produce it and take the tablets before the exertion. This often prevents pain.

Friction Between State and Church Mounting

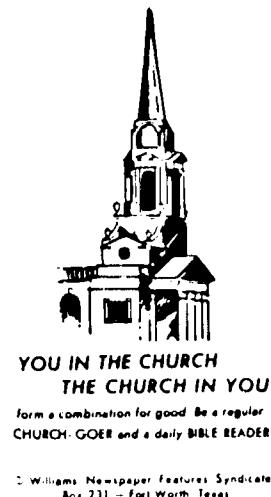

NEW YORK (AP) — Friction between state and church is moving into some touchy new areas. Some churches complain of pressures to stop their taking stands on public issues and of government spying on church personnel.
The latest protest came last week in a brief filed with the U.S. Supreme Court, contending that military surveillance has included church leaders and that it violates guarantees of religious freedom.
Such government investigation activity nowadays is "replete with examples of special invasion into religious aspects of society," four national religious organizations said in a friend-of-the-court brief.
It was filed in connection with a case brought by the American Civil Liberties Union asking the court to ban military investigations of persons outside the armed forces.
Such operations have "breached the wall of separation between the state and religious activities of Americans," the church organizations said.
They are the United Church of Christ's Council for Christian Social Action, the American Friends Service Committee, the Unitarian Universalist Association and the National Council of Churches, made up of 33

Protestant and Orthodox denominations.
They said some local congregations, members and many church leaders have been subjected to military surveillance, especially those working with an interdenominational antiwar agency, Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam.
Earlier, the policy-making board of the National Council last month complained that government tax pressure was being used to keep churches from speaking out on social concerns.
Many churches "believe that Christians are obliged by their faith to make Christ the Lord part of all aspects of their lives, and public policy is not an exception to that obligation," the church representatives said.
A bill recently introduced in the U.S. Senate by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., would allow churches and other charitable groups to press for legislation of interest to them without jeopardizing their tax exemptions.
Some church groups have said Internal Revenue Service agents lately have used the threat of a loss of tax exemptions as a lever against church activity on issues of general public concern.

THEY all may be made of the same metal, but oh the difference in the doors they open! Your need determines the key you use.

If you would open a treasure chest . . . the small key will do. If you would loose the intricate lock on the heavy bank vault . . . it takes a bigger, more precisioned key. But if you want the freedom of God's universe — if you want entrance to human hearts — if you want to open the gates of Heaven — then take the cross. It is the key which Jesus hammered out, and you'll find rules and regulations on how to use it at the church of your choice.

Gas Crisis Brings Rationing in Areas

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A critically short supply of natural gas, the fuel which heats and air conditions millions of homes and businesses, has triggered stringent rationing in dozens of major cities. Within a year the crisis could blanket the nation.

Many gas utility companies already are refusing to take any new commercial, industrial or residential customers and, in some cases are cutting back service to existing customers.

"Lousy is the word we're using to describe the situation here," said a spokesman for the New York Public Service Commission, which as early as last October issued orders severely restricting the attachment of new gas service throughout the state.

Washington Gas Light Co. has ceased taking any new customers. New service has been refused to all applicants in Chicago for more than a year. A program under way in that city will make gas service available to some new customers, but the gas will come from cutting back or cutting off some old customers.

State utility commissions in Ohio, Michigan, Maryland and Pennsylvania have approved drastic gas-service limitations, while utilities in Georgia and California have been informed by their suppliers that no additional quantities of natural gas will be available in the foreseeable future, raising the spectre of future rationing there.

And no one sees the crisis easing before late 1974 or 1975. The problem has been growing for several years, fed by the inability or unwillingness of major natural-gas producers to explore for new fields.

In a classic domino effect, this has cut the amount of new gas available to pipeline distributors who, in turn, have cut back supplies to utility companies.

Even if new exploration began today, experts agree, it would take three to four years to find enough new gas and sink enough new wells to get production running ahead of demand again.

The Federal Power Commission last December initiated a study to determine if gas supplies were in fact as critically low as industry spokesmen claim. Those spokesmen argue that rate structures set by the FPC do not allow enough profit to finance the high-risk, low-yield job of gas exploration.

Consumer advocates, on the other hand, claim that the gas producers have deliberately cut back exploration to create a gas shortage and force the FPC to approve higher rates, a contention that gas producers strongly deny.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

Has Plan to Get Rich

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Hold still, mister. No, I won't let go of your lapels. All I want you to do is listen to my plan for getting rich.

Just listen—that's all. You see, that's the big trouble with the world today—nobody listens. Everybody wants to get into the act. Nobody wants to be the audience.

So, after noticing this for some years, I got my big idea. If nobody will lend anyone an ear, why not set up a corporation that will rent ears to people who need them to pour their tales of woe into?

So that's what I'm going to do. I have formed my own company called The Big Friendly Ear, Inc. Here is how it will work:

We'll rent thousands of small studios across the nation. In each studio will be a plain straight-backed chair facing a six-foot, mechanical, flesh-colored ear containing a four-foot mechanical human eye.

The idea couldn't be more simple. The customer simply puts a quarter in the slot, sits in the chair, looks the ear in the eye—and starts telling it his troubles.

The quarter will entitle the customer to 15 minutes of the Big Friendly Ear's full attention if he talks on any subject except sex. If he wants to talk about that, he will have to put in two quarters—for even a machine gets tired of listening to someone else's sex problems.

Basically, the Big Friendly Ear takes the place of a beloved friend, lover, spouse or bartender. Since it is padded, you can even get rid of your aggressive impulses by punching it.

You may think people won't pay to get a mechanical machine to listen to them. You are wrong. There are thousands of people walking America today who talk to anything—squirrels, elm trees, telephone poles, and the faces on billboards. They talk to themselves, too, but don't listen.

The quarter-a-ear fee charged by the machine is a real bargain. We deliberately are setting it low at the start because of the old saying that talk is cheap.

As the Big Friendly Ear becomes more complex through the manufacture of improved models, its fee will rise to $1 or more.

It will be worth it. At appropriate intervals as the customer pushes its buttons, the machine will break into tears, pat him on the back, and mutter hollowly, "Never in history has a human being suffered so much. There must be a plot against you. How in the world can you bear it all so bravely?"

Well, I guess you are wondering why I don't have the Big Friendly Ear rolling off the production line right now. The reason is I can't get anyone to listen to me. Nobody listens to anybody or anything anyway.

Tax Consultants Differ

By TOM WELLS
Associated Press Writer
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Six tax consultants here came up with six different results when asked for help in filling out a federal income tax return.

The maximum difference was $454. One consultant said the taxpayer owed $77. Another said a refund of $377 was due.

An Associated Press writer and his wife went to the consultants for advice on filling out their joint return with itemized deductions. The couple pretended to know little about possible deductions but gave the same information to each consultant when asked for it.

Some of the consultants found legitimate deductions, such as damage to the family car that was not covered by collision insurance.

Others listed deductions such as ordinary sunglasses, which the Internal Revenue Service says are only deductible if worn on jobs where they are an absolute necessity.

Some of the consultants say in their advertising that they will appear with the taxpayer if he has to go to court over his return.

David Kestler, chief tax auditor for the IRS office here, noted in an interview that "the person who signs the return is responsible for everything that's in it."

One consultant failed to suggest many legitimate deductions that the couple was entitled to, such as the husband's alimony payments.

Only one of the consultants went beyond the usual question about doctor bills and medicine costs to discover that the newsman was entitled to a deduction for the cost of crutches and special shoe supports needed because of a broken leg.

The deductions and the final figures weren't the only places where the tax experts differed. The fees ranged from $27 to $50.

One firm of a national chain charged $50, while another office of the same chain a mile away charged $35.

Business, Spending Paradox

NEW YORK (AP) — At this time last year the question was why business spending wasn't picking up, even though consumers were giving tentative signs that they were willing to expand their spending plans.

If consumers were getting ready to spend more, shouldn't business also spend in order to expand and meet the demand? It would seem so, and that is why some economists couldn't make sense out of the pattern.

This year the paradox is reversed. Consumer spending, though fairly strong, isn't showing the increase that many government and industry forecasters had looked for. It still could develop.

Business spending, however, is almost certain to be much stronger than a year ago, if the surveys are to be believed. One after another survey shows the same thing: Plans are big and growing bigger.

It is for this reason that some economists are holding to their projections of a $100-billion advance this year in the Gross National Product, unswayed by the nervousness of those who are concerned about sluggish retail trade.

William Freund, vice president and chief economist of the New York Stock Exchange, expresses his view this way:

"Durable goods orders are higher; contract awards are rising; and (business) spending intentions, whether measured by the Department of Commerce or private agencies, all point strongly in an upward direction."

"With corporate profits increasing some 15 per cent after taxes, with cash flows up even more, business outlays for new plant and equipment will rise at least 10 per cent in the year ahead."

"In the annals of our economic history, there have been few times when the ground seemed to be quite so ripe for a broad-based and vigorous cyclical expansion as now."

You can't be more specific than that.

Last year capital spending showed a 1.9 per cent increase over a year earlier, worst in a decade. This year, a Commerce Department survey indicates a gain of 10.5 per cent, or $8.6 billion, to a total of $89.7 billion.

An earlier Commerce Department survey issued in January indicated the gain would be only 9.1 per cent. And a projection by the President's Council of Economic Advisers, also issued in January, reached only 8 per cent.

In view of consumer economists the anticipated increase in spending by business will largely offset the disappointing figures for consumer spending. Retail sales are described as unexciting, and consumers are somewhat reluctant to increase their use of installment credit.

Who's right? Consumers or industry?

Yellow Thunder's Body Not Mutilated

By TERRY WOSTER
Associated Press Writer
RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — A second autopsy on the body of an Indian found dead in a used-car lot is Gordon, Neb., has failed to substantiate Indian accusations that the man was tortured and mutilated.

However, an Indian leader says the key question following the death of Raymond Yellow Thunder is why the rumors started.

"The reason must be the tension that Indians live under in areas near these predominantly white communities. The tension is because of numerous incidents of which Yellow Thunder's death was only one," John Echo Hawk of Boulder, Colo., said after the second autopsy Thursday.

Echo Hawk, an attorney for the Native American Rights Fund, was one of seven persons chosen by the family to witness the autopsy.

He said the results of the second autopsy confirmed the initial finding that death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Yellow Thunder's body was found Feb. 20, seven days after he was stripped from the waist down and shoved into an American Legion hall where a dance was in progress, authorities said.

Five white persons were arrested—four men and a woman. Three were charged with manslaughter and two with false imprisonment. A preliminary hearing is scheduled Tuesday in Gordon, a community of 2,100 which includes some 200 Indians.

Thursday's autopsy was performed at the request of relatives and the American Indian Movement—AIM—after charges were made that Yellow Thunder had been castrated and burned with cigarettes prior to his death.

"There were no cigarette burns, no crushed hands and no evidence of any other mutilation," said Echo Hawk.

The death of Yellow Thunder, a 51-year-old South Dakota Sioux, became a rallying point for Indians in this area.

Tuesday, about 1,000 Indians led by AIM officials gathered in Gordon to protest the death and demand further investigation.

Sheridan County Attorney Michael Smith said he didn't know why the Indians had demanded the second autopsy, since he already had brought charges in the death.

"I don't know now what good might come from this week's activities," he said, "but I hope that it may bring cohesion among Indian people in our area."

Cucumber Contracts

Anyone wishing to grow cucumbers for Brown-Miller Company may sign contracts now says Calvin J. Caldwell, County Extension Agent.

Representatives of the pickling firm gave us the following information recently:

1. The grading and packing shed will be open again this year.
2. Contracts and seed may be obtained at Barry's Grocery and Market on Main Street in Hope. Seed must be paid for when received.
3. Roy Smith, Route 1, Hope, Field Representative for the company, also has contracts and seed. He will be in charge of buying.

4. Prices per cwt. for 1972 are:
Grade No. 1 - $9.00 up 50c from last year

Grade No. 2 - $4.10 up 10c from last year

Grade No. 3 - $2.20 up 40c from last year

Grade No. 4 - $1.00 same as a year ago

Terrorists Identified

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Irish Republican Army has identified three terrorists blown to bits in a bomb dump as a teen-age volunteer and two lieutenants in the illegal IRA guerrilla force.

A communique handed to a Dublin newspaper said Lt. John Johnson, 20, was an explosives expert for the terrorists. Lt. Gerard Crossan, the communique said, was a 21-year-old father of two and Tony Lewis a 16-year-old apprentice guerrilla.

The three died in an explosion which demolished a bomb workshop in the heart of Belfast on Thursday. Their deaths brought to 61 the number of persons killed in Northern Ireland violence this year and to 10 the number killed this month.

Roman Catholics expressed conviction the explosion was the work of Protestant raiders, and fears mounted in Roman Catholic neighborhoods of a Protestant backlash to the IRA terror campaign.

But the British army and Belfast police said the blast came from a 30-pound gelignite bomb that went off accidentally while being primed in the guerrilla workshop.

The bomb exploded as pressure mounted on the British government to bring forward its long-awaited peace proposals. These are said to involve giving Catholics a greater share in governing the province, where they are outnumbered two-to-one by Protestants.

Ministers were accused in Parliament of perhaps contributing to further deaths by continuing to debate while violence raged.

A Northern Ireland government spokesman said that since August terror blasts have killed 63 persons, and wounded 1,264.

Two suspected IRA men were among the five, including a woman, who were injured in the Belfast explosion Thursday. One was believed to be the commander of the area's Provisional IRA group. They were under heavy guard today in a hospital.

A Minute Means More Than You May Think

By AP Newsfeatures
Did you ever stop to think how much a minute is worth and what it means to you and your company?

An examination of the Department of Labor's hourly wage scales show that today non-supervisory workers in industry are making an average of $3.36 an hour for 36.9 hour week. Although industry is primarily concerned with the work day from an hourly standpoint, some interesting figures crop up when the minute is scrutinized.

A look at the traditional 10-minute coffee break or those five minutes generally taken each day to chat with fellow employees is a dramatic illustration. The $3.36 per hour average wage is equal to 5.6 cents per minute and multiplying it through against the coffee break and office chatter time you come up with $218 over the course of a year. That's over 1-3/4 weeks' salary for the worker earning $3.36 an hour or $123.98 a week.

The middle management executive earning $20,000 a year is checking off the minutes to the tune of 16.7 cents per, or $725 a year in coffee breaks and chatting alone.

Should you want to calculate your own per minute value the formula is simple and quite obvious. Just determine your hourly wage rate based on the number of hours you work each week and divide by 60.

"It's amazing what a disparity there is between how much time a person thinks he spends doing various tasks related to his work and the actual time involved," says Harry B. Henshel, president of Bulova Watch Co.

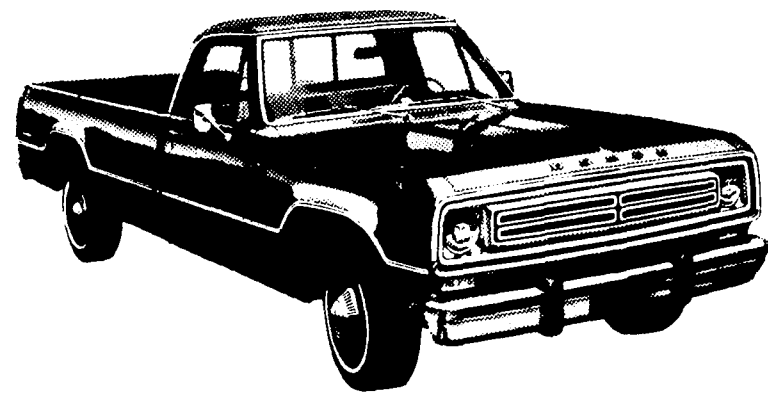

"Everyone can benefit from an analysis of his typical day, be it at work or at play," he adds. Although originally designed to monitor executive time, the following do-it-yourself-time-study method works for anyone who wants an accurate reading on where the hours go; first jot down the various elements that go into "your" typical day; then set up three columns headed: 1) how much time ideally should be devoted to each of the elements; 2) how much time "I" think is spent on each item and; 3) actual time spent
